Declaration of Value: You must declare the 47 value of all Registered Mail articles at the time of mailing, whether you want to pay insurance or not.

With Postal Insurance: You can purchase postal insurance against loss or damage by paying the appropriate fee.

Without Postal Insurance: You can also send an article by Registered Mail without purchasing postal insurance by paying the appropriate fee. No indemnity is paid for uninsured articles.

Indemnity Coverage:

Domestic - Indemnity coverage for domestic Registered Mail is limited to the lesser of (1) the declared value of the articles; (2) the cost of repairs; or (3) the value of the articles at the time of mailing. For additional information about insurance limits and coverage, see Domestic Mail Manual 5010 and 5011 at www.usps.com or ask your local postmaster.

International - Indemnity coverage for international Registered Mail is limited to the maximum set by the Convention of the Universal Postal Union. Ask your postmaster and see the International Mail Manual at any post office or at www.usps.com for limitations of coverage and individual country prohibitions and restrictions.

How to File a Claim:

Domestic - For complete or partial loss or damage present (1) this receipt; (2) the article, container, and packaging; and, (3) evidence to substantiate your claim. Please allow at least 30 days after filing to inquire about the status of your claim.

Claims for loss must be filed within 180 days of the date the article was mailed. Make claims for complete or partial loss of contents, damage, or alleged mailing immediately, but no later than 60 days from the date of mailing.

International - Claims for loss must be filed within six months of the date the article was mailed. Claims for damage and complete or partial loss of contents must be filed immediately. The article, contents, and packaging must be presented to the destination post office.
